Benicia people are growling. Some 200 men who have been boarding in that town and working in Port Costa, were unable to reach the scene of their employment in time in the morning, owing to the present movements of the ferry, and have moved in a body to Port Costa.

The Humboldt Times says that a man by the name of W. W. Taylor, about 60 years of age, caught his hand in the planer knives of Vance's Mad river mill, and in a twinkling the hand and arm were drawn in and crushed to the shoulder. He died before assistance could reach him.

Interesting to every one is the case recently referred to by the Brooklyn Eagle. It was told by Mr. W. A. Davenport, connected with the house of Messers. Butler, Pitkin & Co., 476 Broadway, New York, and concerned the marvelous cure of Ezra D. Clarkson, near Newark, N.J., of a terrible case of rheumatism which other remedies had failed even to alleviate. He was on his way to a hospital when Mr. Davenport met him and induced him to try St. Jacobs Oil, with the result named.

TOO MANY ADVANTAGES.

The retail shoe dealers in San Francisco, and others interested in the exclusion of Chinese labor from the shoe factories, are taking steps to prevent the imposition on the public of Chinese-made goods, bearing the stamp of white tradesmen. This practice of selling the product of coolie labor under a disguise is a most infamous one, and calculated to do much more injury than, on first thought, would seem possible. It is the policy of our Government to protect our own tradesmen, but since the coolie planted the sole of his wooden-bottomed shoe upon our shores he has been allowed to utilize his China ideas and labor, strengthened by China-raised rice, while his miserable carcass is covered with clothing of Chinese manufacture, to make the same class of goods which our Government places a protective tariff upon, stamp them with a white tradesman's stamp, and shove them into the market as American goods. The consistency of the law which places a tariff upon goods made in China and at the same time allows China to send her subjects to the United States to manufacture the same class of goods, in direct competition with the labor that our protective tariff system aims to foster is not patent.

THE "CALIFORNIAN."

Nothing, certainly, could be more attractive than the June number of the Illustrated Californian. Mrs. Victor continues her studies of the California Missions. James O'Meara has an able contribution on the "Veto Power and the Chinese," which is exceedingly timely just now. A new serial story, "Thalae," is commenced in this number by Leonard Kip, whose "Cobweb and Crust" in this magazine attracted such general admiration. Warren Cheney's story "A Logical Sequence," is continued, and grows in dramatic power and interest. There are several fine poems. "Passion Life" by Thomas S. Collier is an exquisite bit of writing. Sam Davis has a poem entitled "Decoration Day." There are, besides, numerous contributions by leading writers. Since the Californian commenced illustrating its success has been very marked.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The people of the Pacific Coast will make a great mistake if they fail to rebuke immediately and effectively all demonstrations looking towards the forcible driving out of what Chinese are here now. As sure as any class of our people try that the people of the East will give him a vote to protect himself, just as they gave the negro the ballot to give him a chance to protect himself. Let the workingmen use moderation and the Chinese will soon go. A false step now may ruin the Coast.

The Mayor of Philadelphia received a letter this morning from Sarah Brown, daughter of John Brown, warning the public against a colored man named E. W. Hall, who pretended to collect money for the widow and daughter of John Brown. She says he is doing this upon his own responsibility, and that Mrs. Brown is not in need, having been placed in comfortable circumstances by a fund raised by the people of California over a year ago.

In his New York lecture Oscar Wilde said he hoped he would not offend the dandies of Fifth Avenue by saying that he thought the best dressed men in America are the miners in California and Nevada, for their costumes are both picturesque and appropriate.

Probable Suicide.

PORLAND, May 23. Mrs. Eliza Smith, a resident of North Salem, was found dead under a bed yesterday morning. She was lying on a sheet and pillow which had been carefully arranged on the floor under the bed. She probably committed suicide Thursday or Friday by strychnine. She was a widow sixty years old, and no cause is assigned.

A STARTLING SWINDLE.

Plates of Government Bonds Duplicated, and Perhaps Used to an Unlimited Extent.

AN ARCTIC WAVE.

CHICAGO, May 23.

WASHINGTON, May 22. The statement that the Treasury Department had offered a reward of $15,000 for information about the stolen $1,000 bond plate is untrue. The suspension of the sentence of Doyle and re-arrest of Brockway and Smith are regarded as intended to secure that information.

CHICAGO, May 23.

James B. Doyle has not yet been able to get bail. The Times tomorrow will publish an article in which it is stated that a man formerly of the secret service and Brockway have a scheme on foot to secure Doyle's release through the implication of other parties in stealing the plate from which the bonds were printed.

A Times Washington special says Secretary Folger has been led to believe that the currency had been duplicated in numbers of instances, and plates in the possession of the Government had found their way into the hands of outside parties, and if proved true the result must demoralize the public credit and seriously impair values. The release of Doyle, in Chicago, on Saturday, was a part of the programme adopted by the Secretary to "unearth mere testimony bearing upon the case upon one side or the other. There is

AN ENORMOUS CONSPIRACY.

It is charged that the conspiracy is upon the part of the Government, and that high officials have conspired to debauch the currency. Several weeks ago Samuel Felker, a detective of Chicago, came to this city and placed himself in communication with the Secretary of the Treasury, through a friend, whom he instructed to see Folger and tell him that he had in his possession an electrolyte transfer from the original plate in the possession of the Government of the $1,000 bond, issue of 1880, and that he desired an interview. The interview was granted after some hesitation. Felker then told Folger that he would bring the plate, which he claimed was an electrolyte transfer, and would give it to the Secretary for examination upon certain conditions. Felker said: "I do not pretend to know anything about the plates. I simply claim to have an exact transfer of one of the plates of the Government bonds issued. I make no charges against anybody. I simply present this as a fact, and I want you to pass on it. If you think it worth while to consider Doyle, give him his freedom. I will

SURRENDER THE PLATE

For that. The Secretary indicated that he desired to send for experts in the Bureau of Engraving and Printing to come and examine the plate. Felker said: "No sir; I cannot allow one of them to see it. You may call in all the experts you please to examine the plate; but you must remember that if this is a transfer from the dies that go to make up the original plate, it is a reflection upon the Bureau of Engraving and Printing. They are interested in it, and they should be the last ones to see it." The Secretary saw the plate, and promising to preserve it carefully, closed the interview. Since then various experts have been summoned to examine the plate, and have all reported that is a transfer from the original die. It was upon this that the order for Doyle's release under his suspended sentence was given. Now the Department is in a most embarrassing position, confronted with the proved fact of a duplicate bond plate. From this must follow a rigid official investigation to ascertain who are the guilty parties. It will be remembered that the Government expert in the case of Doyle, in Chicago, testified that none of the issues of the Government are printed from engraved plates. Various portions of the plate were engraved separately, when small pieces of steel are called dies. The engraving upon the dies is transferred to cylinders of softened steel by pressure. This cylinder then is transferred, and by pressure upon a flat plate of soft steel. In this way

THE PRINTED BONDS

Found in Doyle's possession were printed from an electrolyte, which varied in a number of respects from the Government issue. The Government experts still claim that the bonds in Doyle's possession, and the bonds of this issue are in the possession of the Government. This point, however, has been very successfully met at the Treasury Department, who claim that the plate they now present is a reproduction of Government work. Only one familiar with engraving will know that none of the issues of the Government are printed from engraved plates.

Various portions of the plate were engraved separately, when small pieces of steel are called dies. The engraving upon the dies is transferred to cylinders of softened steel by pressure. This cylinder then is transferred, and by pressure upon a flat plate of soft steel. In this way

A SAN FRANCISCO RAILWAY SCHEME.

WASHINGTON, May 22.

There are two bills now before Congress in relation to the San Francisco and Ocean Shore Railroad. One bill before the Committee on Railroads is to grant the road the right of way through the light-house grounds in San Mateo county. The other bill is before the Committee on Public Lands and it grants the right of way through the Presidio Military Reservation. Congressman Page says he shall put his foot on the bill pending before the issue found in Doyle's possession. With this staggering evidence laid before him, Folger has felt weighed down with the responsibility of the investigation. The matter was brought before the Cabinet on Friday and discussed, and it was resolved to grant Folger full authority to act on the investigation as he sees fit.

AN ARCTIC WAVE.

CHICAGO, May 23.

A large number of reports from Iowa points give further details of damage by the frosts of Sunday night, and indicate that last night's cold wave was equally severe.

Leavenworth reports severe frosts in that section of the Missouri valley which killed much tender vegetation. The grain crops were affected only slightly. The Polar wave struck Madison, Wisconsin, and the mercury declined almost to freezing, but there was no frost. Cold weather in that section has retarded but not injured the crops. Cold rain at Lincoln, Nebraska, excited fears that corn would rot in the ground and that other grains would be injured. To-day will probably bring more reports of injuries, as last night was a cold one throughout the northwest. The night was cloudy and there was no frost here, but early this morning a light snow fell for nearly an hour. At Marshalltown, Iowa, the second snowstorm this Spring occurred last night, between 12 and 1, snowing heavily for some time, and then grew clear and cold and with a heavy frost doing a great deal of damage. Small fruits are mostly ruined and other damage is feared.

A Times Washington special says

Secretary Folger has been led to believe that the currency had been duplicated in numbers of instances, and plates in the possession of the Government had found their way into the hands of outside parties, and if proved true the result must demoralize the public credit and seriously impair values. A HOT SPRINGS special says: Reports of destruction by a terrific tornado last week in Polk county are coming in by mail. The residence of Mr. Turner at Iron Forks, was demolished, two children killed, Mr. Turner badly and his wife fatally injured in trying to escape. Some of the inmates had their clothes torn from their backs. Dr. McDonie's residence was torn to pieces, and his wife seriously, if not fatally hurt, and Mrs. James Davis, a visitor, was probably injured. Mr. Barber lost every building on his farm, and McKnight's residence destroyed, the occupant escaping. Joseph Pepper's little daughter was killed. Mr. Holmes and wife were fatally injured; the Baptist church of Gardner was destroyed. It is estimated that fifty farms are devastated, and that the destruction in the country never had a precedent.

A Belligerent Preacher.

CHICAGO, May 23.

Dr. Steiner of Fort Wayne, formerly a Methodist minister, preached last Sunday evening, and thought he discovered his bitter enemy, Dr. Sweriger, making faces at him. He walked down the aisle and offered to thrash him at once. Sweriger retaliated by having him arrested. When they met in the Justice's office Steiner put in three stinging blows on his adversary's face, which drew blood, and the case was adjourned.

An American Citizen Imprisoned in Germany.

CHICAGO, May 23.

A Layfayette (Ind.) special says: Barney Hartman, who nine years ago settled near here, went back to Germany four months since to see his parents and secure a partner in matrimony. The German officers seized him and imprisoned him at Munster on the eve of his departure for America. He is a fully naturalized citizen of the United States. When he first left Germany he was under orders to report for military duty.

Bulldozing the President.

NEW YORK, May 23.

When postmaster Pearson reached the office yesterday he found a postal card addressed to President Arthur, notifying him if he did not recall Minister Lowell from England, and ask the unconditional surrender of all American citizens in British dungeons, without trial, he would be assassinated. The writer will be sought for.

A Constitutional Election.

CHICAGO, May 23.

The Mormons held an election yesterday to adopt the Constitution framed for the State of Utah, the Gentiles remaining away from the polls. Delegates to carry the documents to Washington will be chosen June 6th.

—A Cairo correspondent says:

The Admirals of the English and French squadrons have no orders, except to protect Europeans, which they will be unable to do in the case of resistance, as it would be easy to destroy the shipping from the land before the allied fleet could silence a single fort.

"Phi" and "Tule" are in town. R. B. Mitchell of Virginia is in Reno.

J. C. Lewis, of Wadsworth is at the Palace.

Hon. Wm. Woodburn is in town on legal business.

Jos. Roberts and wife, of Long Valley, are at the Palace.

L. A. Hall, Route Agent for Wells-Fargo, went through to Battle Mountain this morning.

Jake Stephens came in from Summit and left for Virginia with a load of butter to-day.

Mrs. S. D. King, who has been visiting Reno friends for a few days returned to Carson Sunday night.

Thomas and Joseph Kennedy will leave for Silver Glance district, in the vicinity of the Mountain House tomorrow.

Frank Dickinson came in from Winnemucca Valley this morning. He says the prospects for good crops were never better.

George Senf, better known as "Graphic," manager of the Western Union Telegraph Co. at Virginia, was in Reno yesterday.

John W. Parker of the Surveyor-General's office, has returned from his San Francisco visit. He says things are "about the same" down at the Bay.

Charles Bonnemort, who was Superintendent of the Sierra Nevada mine when Johnnie Skaa gave his famous fish barbecue, is on the Comstock again.

ELI PERKINS.

Archibald Forbes says: "It is bad enough to realize that you are a failure; but it is quite too harrowing to be told so to your face." If this be true, Eli must have felt bad when he read the following in the Sacramento Bee: "Eli Perkins came and saw, but by no means conquered. His lecture was simply a mass of jokes, most of them stale, many of them poor, all of them strained, strung together with a very thin thread of explanatory remarks. Add to this the affectations and property giggle of the speaker, and it will easily be seen that if Mr. Perkins has any of the 'Philosophy of Fun' in him he did not condescend to allow it to be transmitted from himself to his audience. His smile should be patented. It comes in at his call, stays on his face while he is relating a joke, and then gradually to be worked out of his countenance by sundry facial contortions." The Record Union, on the contrary, says: "The speaker is humorous without effort, is ready in his wit, gets his auditor very close to him, soon has his hearers in stitches with a sort of abandon that is as refreshing as it is socially agreeable." Eli's Reno acquaintances can take their choice.

VALUABLE TIME.

There are periods in men's lives when time seems worth about $100,000 a second. One such instant is when a man arrives at a railroad crossing a quarter of a second ahead of the lightning express. At such time five men out of ten will stand up in the wagon and rain fifteen pound blows upon the outlying districts of their horse's back in their awful eagerness to save that precious bit of time which the train would occupy in passing. It matters not if the hind wheels and tail-board are off and a $300 wagon forever ruined, so long as his life is spared the man is supremely happy and contented.

This strange peculiarity of man was illustrated at the railroad track this morning. A red head of hair would have been flattened between the locomotive and wagon wheels, so close was the shave. But the man wasn't killed, and has probably chuckled a hundred times to-day to think of the time he saved.

MICHAEL EGAN ACQUITTED.

In Lundy, California, Michael Egan was acquitted of the murder of James T. Slack and discharged from custody on the ground that in killing Slack he acted in self defense. The Lundy Index says: "The decision gave universal satisfaction, for Slack's most intimate friends, as well as Egan's worst enemies (if he has any) were convinced that Egan could not have acted otherwise than as he did, with safety to himself, and while all regret the occurrence, there are none who regret more keenly than Egan does himself that he should have been forced to take human life."

A PIUTE HORN DEAD.

Virginia Chronicle: A Piute brave named Sleepy Jim died at Fort McDermitt the other day, who enjoyed the reputation among his tribe of being the slayer of Buffalo Horn, the war chief of the Bannocks, in 1878. That Buffalo Horn was killed at that time is well known, but the Silver City (Idaho) Volunteers claim the credit of having wiped him out. The Piutes, however, persist in the statement that it was Sleepy Jim's hand that dealt the fatal blow. The dusky warrior, who is now dead, claimed the honor for himself, but in the modesty of true bravery declined to enter into any wrangle over the matter. He was quiet and retiring in his manners.

LOOK OUT FOR THEM.

An excursion to Lake Tahoe from Eureka is being agitated. It is the intention to camp out and have as jolly a time as possible. Folks along the line will immediately adopt some plan of self-protection against this proposed irruption of Base Rangers.

TRYING AN EXPERIMENT.

T. J. Petree started this morning hauling ore from his mine at Deep Wells, to town. He will ship a carload to San Francisco to be worked.

A PROMISING DISTRICT.

Tioga District, some 30 miles south of Bodie, and adjoining Homer District, seems likely to have an early as well as lasting boom, notwithstanding the fact that considerable snow yet remains upon the ground. Men are pouring in there daily from all directions, and in such numbers that the present accommodations are entirely inadequate. This, however, will soon be remedied, as Martin's saw mill will start up in a day or two, when a number of buildings will be erected at Bennettville. The machinery and Burleigh drills of the Great Sierra Co. Silver company were started up several days since. Work on a large scale will also soon be commenced on the Risedollar mine, near Bennettville, and the Ohio Company will commence a deep tunnel to tap the White Horse, Faith and other lodes on Mount Gibbs, five miles further south, as soon as supplies can be got in. Meantime, the forests and hills are alive with men engaged in cutting wood and saw logs, burning coal, doing assessment work and prospecting. A telegraph line is to be built to Yoemite as early as possible, and either the Lake Canyon toll road will be extended to Bennettville or a wagon road constructed from the latter place to the railroads on the other side, or both, as soon as the snow disappears; and altogether it looks as though Tioga District would be the scene of the greatest activity during the coming summer.

SHOT IN THE HEAD.

"Dusy," the boss pine-apple punch builder of the coast, is an unfortunate case when he goes out gaming. Last winter he went out after ducks, got lost, and nearly froze to death, when finally he got sight of the north star and paddled out for home. But his good luck was of short duration, for he had not gone far before he fell into Steamboat creek and nearly drowned. This morning he tried it again, taking "Spider" along for a companion. They found doves very plentiful, and in the excitement and desire to get a good bag "Spider" banged away and shot "Dusy" in the right eye. The wound is not serious, but it was a very narrow escape for his eye, and he is just as mad as he would have been had "Spider" crippled him for life. "Dusy" says the next time he goes out hunting he will employ a guide and take a bow and arrow instead of a gun.

THE KINKEAD MILL.

It is probable that a large-sized mill of J. H. Kinkead's design will be completed in a few days, at the foundry, when all those interested in such matters will have an opportunity to study its workings and satisfy themselves as to its worth. A number of practical miners and millmen have examined the working model thoroughly, and pronounce it simple and efficient. It possesses one advantage which will recommend it on the score of economy: The loss on castings is much less than in a stamp-mill. The grinding disks, or dies, which wear out can be worn down very thin before they have to be replaced. It promises to be a complete and convenient prospector's mill, at all events, and a cheap one as well.

MILITARY BALL.

The Reno Guard decided last evening to give a ball on Fourth of July night, the proceeds to go towards buying a company uniform. Messrs. Allen, Waggoner, Laycock, Henley and Captain Moger were appointed a committee to make all the necessary arrangements. Members are manifesting much interest in military matters, and it won't be but a short time before the company will have a uniform. The next drill will be on Friday night.

A FAIR PROPOSITION.

Anyone suffering from habitual constipation, torpidity of the liver, colds, fevers, headaches, restlessness, sleeplessness, indigestion or other ills arising from a disordered or inactive condition of the liver, stomach and bowels, and wishing to give Syrup of Figs a thorough trial, can buy it of R. E. Queen, the druggist, who will agree to return your money if it fails to act promptly and satisfactorily.

DON'T RUSH.

A private letter states that there are more men in Wood River than know what to do, and that it will be several weeks yet before prospecting can be followed to advantage, or with even a fair show of success. Though there are many mechanics at work there are three times as many idle ones. The writer of the letter advises his friends to remain in Reno, "where two dollars and a half per day is better than four at Wood River," to say nothing of the discomforts one has to tolerate.

A VICTORY FOR THE CARSON GUARD.

A target match was shot between the Carson Guard and a crack military company of Oakland, Cal., a day or two since, each company shooting over its own range. The result was a victory for the Carsonites.

DR. DAWSON AND THE TURKEYS.

Dr. Dawson is raising turkeys. A few days ago he put 18 eggs under an old hen turkey, and this morning he found twelve young Christmas dinners and two eggs left. He says he has read everything of a historical nature on turkey raising, but finds nothing that enables him to account for the fourteenth egg. He says he counted the eggs and turkeys several times, and at different hours of the day, when finally he submitted the fixed question to Tule Frank, who is authority on turkey raising. Frank wrestled with the problem for several hours, and finally admitted that he new nothing about the hatching process when conducted by an old hen turkey and a Reno doctor. Dawson is still in the dark.

BAD CROSSING.

The Sierra street railroad crossing is a disgrace to the railroad company and the cause of much trouble to those who pass over it with heavy loads. The rails are so much higher than the planking, and the approaches so steep, that in order to get over at all they have to drive rapidly, which makes it very trying on both horses and wagons; and it is worse on a light buggy than a corduroy bridge. It has been in bad condition for several months and should be attended to.

Emerson.

Speaking of Mr. Emerson, the Pall Mall Gazette asks: Who is there of living Americans who can aspire to be considered his successor? In his death American literature has sustained the greatest blow it has yet had to experience, and the sense of loss will be felt almost as keenly in this country as in New England, which rightly glories in his fame.
